

EPIPHANY VISIT EVENT 2012

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary will host Epiphany Event, two days of exploration for prospective students, Jan. 5-6, 2012.

Thursday's portion of the program is devoted to the discernment journey. Sessions will reflect on God's call as it is experienced through Scripture, through life experience, and through the stories of current students. You'll also learn about our distinctive master's level degree programs. You will join the Seminary community for worship, lunch, and have the opportunity to sit in on a class. Finally, a campus tour will give participants a personal touch of our buildings, classrooms, and housing. Friday includes a faculty-led workshop, a presentation about some of the Seminary's special programs, and a time to learn about the admissions process and financial aid.

For those traveling from a distance, overnight housing is provided. Spouses, parents, or family members are welcome to attend. There is no fee for this event.
