In a city of neighborhoods, we have embraced the synergy of the city and the gospel in which the term neighbor plays a central role. Enacting a theology of neighbor repositions the Seminary to convene conversations and collaborations between congregations, organizations, and citizens; to provide education and formation for discipleship, leadership, and citizenship; and to advocate for truth, justice, and hope in church and society.

ABOUT THE PTS NEIGHBORHOOD COLLABORATIVE

Through both certificate programs and non-degree educational offerings, the PTS Neighborhood Collaborative translates cutting edge scholarship and communicates best practices to wider audiences. Together, in their respective and collective work, the programs of the Neighborhood Collaborative connect the learned theology of the academy with the lived theology of church and society to form present and future Christian leaders in service to their contexts.

The Neighborhood Collaborative forms and equips students for ministry alongside and outside of the degree programs. The Collaborative fosters vocational discernment, co-learning, and transformative action for the common good by connecting diverse neighbors locally and globally.
